Incumbent's Report

Dear sisters and brothers in Christ,

Reflecting on my first year as your Incumbent, the phrase baptism by fire comes to mind. It has been exceedingly eventful and intense, a year full of many transitions (some anticipated, some not). But remaining, unchanging, is the faithfulness of this community, despite leaking roofs and falling bricks. I, personally, have been blessed by your kindness and encouragement—not the least from the outgoing Rector's Warden Sandra Everitt, People's Warden Stanley Clarke, and Deputy People's Warden Peter Davies, whose dedication to service, wealth of experience, and generous sharing of their gifts and talents on the Board of Management will be missed. Sandra and Stanley have been unhesitating in facing, with me, some seemingly Herculean tasks on the Corporation this past year, and I am grateful for their tenacity. I am similarly indebted to our Sexton and Treasurer, St. Clair Codrington, who keeps both our building and our books in shape. Victor Marshall joined the Board of Management team after his appointment as Deputy Rector's Warden (at the Annual Vestry Meeting in Feb. 2013), and we have all benefitted from his thoughtful and calming presence.

Mine has not been the only new face in the church office. This past year we bid farewell (in April) to parish Secretary Diana Brossard, who is now enjoying a much-deserved retirement, and welcomed the exceedingly competent Rowena Haines to the job (in May). Similarly, we were sad to say good-bye to Music Director Chris Pelonzi (in April), but excited to have on board (in September) the multi-talented Alexander Bauhart.

With regard to worship at St. Barnabas, the centre of our common life together: we have been blessed with some memorable services, which (hopefully) nourish and equip us both individually and as a community of faith. I think of our Lenten mid-week services and discussion series—this past year focussed on the Stations of the Cross—and the Maundy Thursday and Easter Vigil Communion services held jointly with our Lutheran neighbours from Christ the Redeemer Church. A highlight of the Advent and Christmas seasons, for me, was the excellent and inspirational Christmas Pageant, performed by the Sunday School (during our Advent 4 Eucharist at 10:30 a.m.). Special thanks to organizers Marie Claire Callender, Sandra Everitt, and Alexander Bauhart for the best Christmas pageant ever! Also revived this year was the Crèche service (Christmas Eve at 4 p.m.), offering an earlier time slot and a simpler liturgy to complement the regular Christmas Eve and Christmas Day Holy Communion services. Even my laryngitis couldn't spoil the joy and sanctity of those occasions. Another happy addition to our Advent worship schedule this year was the Confirmation service, led by our Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Barry Clarke, at the 10:30 a.m. service on Advent 3. Challenging weather conditions unfortunately made travelling problematic for some people, but did not diminish the fun of the Bishop's dialogue sermon with Diocesan Youth Consultant, Mark Dunwoody.

Other new additions to our worship calendar this year included: the (ecumenical) World Day of Prayer service, most ably coordinated by North Shore Ecumenical Committee liaison Kathleen Davies (in March); a mid-week All Souls Day Eucharist (in Nov.); and our first joint summer worship service (in July)—and picnic on the lawn!—again with our Lutheran neighbours. We also revived the tradition of regular mid-week Communion services, gathering in the Lounge on Wednesday mornings to receive the sacrament and uphold, on a rotational basis, all the ministries ongoing in this parish.

All of these are dependent, of course, on the dedicated participation of parish volunteers such as: the Lay Readers Ernest Callender and Linden Rogers, who especially helped by officiating at services of Morning Prayer during my vacation in August; the choir members, and Hand bell choir, lead with love by Directors Alexander Bauhart and Sari Tuominiemi, respectively, who regularly enrich our worship with their gift of music; and the readers, Communion assistants and intercessors, who help us hear, respond, and be nourished by word and sacrament each week. Thank you to Peter Vatcher and Jean Codrington for their help in coordinating the schedules. I am grateful also for the untiring and unassuming leadership of the Altar Guild Directress, Joan Turpin, and all the Guild members, who quietly ensure the proper preparation for, and clean-up, at all of our worship services. Similarly, I much appreciate the faithfulness of Edward Dwarka and his team of servers, crucifers and acolytes who help make the liturgy run smoothly on Sunday mornings. The very engaged and thoughtful Worship Committee members meet monthly to plan the music for our services, and help make our worship experiences varied and meaningful.

Christian education and formation has always been an important component at St. Barnabas, and we are thankful for the continued dedication of the leaders (some of very long standing) of all the Bible Study groups affiliated with this parish: Ernest Callender, Darleen Diotte, Bev Jarvis, and Jean and St. Clair Codrington. New this past year, thanks to the initiative of Marie Claire Callender, has been the revival of the Sunday School. Confirmation classes resumed last spring, (under my leadership). We welcomed 10 candidates to the Confirmation Quiet Day held in Nov. (at L'Ermitage Ste. Croix, Pierrefonds), and led by the afore mentioned Mark Dunwoody—which explains how he met the Confirmands in the first place!

We are a community also richly blessed by the pastoral care and outreach offered by many volunteers in this congregation. On Sunday mornings at both services, I am thankful for the continuing ministry of the Chapel Prayer Companions, coordinated with care by Joan Stephens, who offer prayerful support and pastoral listening to individuals in need. As well, on a regular basis, outside of Sunday morning worship, there is a long tradition in this parish of Lay Eucharistic Ministers, who take the reserved sacrament to members of our congregation who are unable to be present at church. On a monthly basis, coordinated by Bev Jarvis, a faithful group of volunteers continues to accompany me to three local seniors' residences, to visit residents and assist at services of Holy Communion. New this year is the Encouragers' Group, an initiative of Jacques Diotte, who meet monthly to pray and discern ways to support existing ministries and develop new ministries in this community. With their input, I updated the parish Welcome Brochure. And with a monumental cooperative effort on the part of our Website Manager, Jennifer Ouellette, and parish Secretary (and photographer!) Rowena Haines, we updated and transformed the parish website with the most recent (and welcoming) text and images we could find—all in time for our new fall season!

This has been a year of both consolidation and new initiatives in the ministry of parish administration. The Wardens have devoted long hours, with me, to update and clarify our agreements with the various churches and partner organizations who share our building. With the sensitivity and perseverance of the Safe Church Coordinator, Linden Rogers, we have almost completed the process of compiling job descriptions, and assessing risk levels to vulnerable persons, for all the volunteer ministries of this congregation. The Corporation have also developed standardized hiring protocols (including mandatory vulnerable persons checks), job descriptions, and evaluation procedures for paid positions such as the Parish Secretary and Music Director. I am also grateful for the help of group leaders and coordinators who have been generous with their time in helping me update procedures and training protocols for Lay Eucharistic Ministers and Chapel Prayer Companions (who are approved by the St. Barnabas Vestry and licensed by the Bishop), as well as clarifying guidelines for counters (Sandra Everitt) and greeters (Madeleine Fortin-Simpson) in this congregation.

By now, you will hopefully all have heard of the work of the Chairs and members of the four Task Forces exploring options for the future of this parish, who were commissioned on Harvest Sunday, and face a complex but crucial undertaking at this time in our parish history. I want to close on that still pending situation (transition-time will continue in 2014!), while repeating a few comments I made in my sermon last Sunday, January 26:

Like those first disciples of Jesus, we may be totally unclear what direction we should take for the future ministry and mission of this community. But we can't go far wrong if we hold fast to this gospel truth: that the Kingdom of God has come near to St. Barnabas. Whatever direction moves us to a closer relationship with our Lord is the direction we should take. Whatever direction leads us to more obedient service to our brothers and sisters around us is the direction we should go. Whatever choices will enable us to promote the values of His Kingdom in our community are the choices we need to make.

Or, to put it really simply, as you may have heard hockey legend Wayne Gretsky explain his success as a goal-scorer: "While everyone else is chasing the puck, I go where the puck is going to be." Which is what we're called to discern in the next year: where God is calling us to be.

In His Service,
(the Rev.) Pamela Yarrow+

give thanks

Warden's Report

Dear Friends,

2013 was a busy and challenging year at St. Barnabas Church, with problems to address, but also with exciting new possibilities to explore. Our first year with our new Incumbent, the Reverend Pamela Yarrow, has been an eventful one, with participation and cooperation by our members in many ministries, committees and as volunteers who all pitched in with renewed vigour. The leadership and membership of the many ministries has permitted St. Barnabas to grow and flourish, even with problems to address, and we thank all those involved.

Our Incumbent and Wardens began the year by completing the updates of the rental contracts for our short and long-term tenants, so that a consistent and fair use/cost ratio could be established that would provide transparency in our dealings with current and new rentals. The Safe Church protocol was restarted and information meetings held to explain its implementation. Our rectory was sold in March and the net proceeds placed in trust for us in the Anglican Trust Fund.

This year we said "Adieu", not "Goodbye", to our faithful secretary, Diana Brossard, after many years of dedicated service. It was a pleasure to recognize Diana's many contributions to the life of this parish at a reception in her honour, and to continue to see her regularly as a member of the parish.

Our new secretary, Rowena Haines, has shown flexibility and a sense of humour as she learns the many functions that she has undertaken. We are grateful for her skills and her willingness to adapt to the changing needs of a busy parish.

It was also the year that our organist, Chris Pelonzi, completed his studies at McGill University and moved on to a permanent position in the United States. After a lengthy period of "fill-in" organists, we were pleased to hire Alexander Bauhart, an enthusiastic new Musical Director, who, with the choir, is making a joyful noise unto the Lord every week.

Highlights of the year were many and include: the Spring Dinner was its usual success, with a packed hall, delicious food and fun entertainment; the spring Garage Sale was well attended and was again a successful fundraiser; the St. Barnabas Day BBQ was fun and delicious; Maintenance Day was well attended and permitted the beautifying and repair of the church; in October, the Diocesan Stewardship Café was again hosted by St. Barnabas; Women's' breakfasts and soup Sundays provided fellowship; the Carols Service, featuring the St. Barnabas and Bells Choirs was a delight; the 3rd Annual Christmas Benefit Concert was held in December, hosted by tenor Manrico Tedeschi and his entourage, and also featuring the Mostly Brass Wind Ensemble, led by Bill Riley. The children and youth of the parish were very much in evidence this year, with our first Confirmation and Christmas pageant in many years. We are very grateful to the many leaders, helpers, dedicated cooks, organizers, and volunteers whose ongoing efforts make all of these activities possible.

Several administrative and maintenance issues were addressed: safety fencing and scaffolding was erected to protect everyone from the falling bricks around the church. At a Special Vestry Meeting, the congregation voted to replace the leaking roof of the sanctuary. This work is in progress. Last but not least, our office is now fully automated and we now have enhanced security in and around the church.

St. Barnabas has formed four Task Forces to investigate all aspects of four different possible solutions to our building issues: repair the building, re-develop the property, relocate to another location, or merge with another congregation. The completion of the work of these Task Forces, and their recommendations in 2014, will help us chart the way forward for this parish.

We pray that God will guide us to the best decision for the congregation of St. Barnabas Church.

Respectfully submitted,

Stanley Clarke, People's Warden and Sandra Everitt, Rector's Warden

Altar Guild Report

The St. Martha's Altar Guild was pleased to welcome two new members to the fold this year. Diana Brossard and Debbie Shane are capably learning the various duties we perform, both weekly and seasonally. We are also very grateful to the many parishioners who lend a hand with decorating, etc. especially at the Christmas and Harvest seasons.

We give thanks to the Rev. Pamela for her guidance and patience as we adapt to ever changing circumstances.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan Turpin

(Adult) Bible Study Report

The Bible study on Sunday mornings and Monday nights take on two forms: the structured form where we follow a prepared agenda, and more often an open forum where participants are encouraged to propose certain topics on which they would like to be enlightened and to discuss.

Notwithstanding the above, we are always open to persons with special prayer requests, whether for themselves or others.

Whatever form taken, we stay on the premise that Jesus is Lord and that we should always rely on the working of the Holy Spirit.

Specific Bible passages are taught, read and discussed to reaffirm and substantiate the need for our faith in the Lord.

We have followed the missionary journeys, the work of the prophets, the disciples and more importantly, the teachings of Jesus. Our readings are found in the Old and the New Testaments.

Visitors are welcomed, those with concerns or need for prayers are encouraged to join us. Over the years we have seen many come and go but always with a common need: to get to know the Lord, to accept him as their Lord and Saviour.

This ministry serves not only as a refuge but as a form of encouragement for those who already are in the fellowship with Christ, as well as for the newly born-again Christians, so they are encouraged to follow the appointed way and stay on the path of Christianity.

We pray for a greater involvement from within the Church as this is part of the Church's ministry and outreach to the community.

Yours in Christ,
Ernest Callender

Chapel Prayer Companions

Every Sunday, after Communion, Chapel Prayer Companions are available to pray with parishioners. Ten Chapel Prayer Companions are involved in this ministry. One Companion is available at the 8:00 a.m. service and two at the 10:30 a.m. service.

If you wished to have prayers for yourself, your family, or your friends, the Chapel is always open to you. Prayers have been offered up for healing, support, thanksgiving, and many other circumstances that the participants brought to the Lord.

In God's service,
Joan Stephens

Choir Report

Although I have been a part of the St. Barnabas team only officially since September 15th 2013, there is something to say about this vibrant community: they like to sing, and that is a great thing.

Our choir works very hard every Wednesday night to achieve a better sound for our Lord, and to support the parishioners in all our services with a leadership that was missing here for too long. Now, the flock has found its shepherd again.

As we strive to provide better and better music every week, I was deeply touched when I saw this group so avidly interested in taking part, for example, in our funeral services. This is rare nowadays, and they are very special for doing that, as I have been told by the families of recent departed members of our parish. They were all so touched and grateful for having a choir singing at their services.

Our children, the future, have shown me their energy and love of singing in our Christmas Pageant, and there will be more, that is for sure. They sang loud and clear, and showed me once again that with fun and energy, we can move things up and sound just great! We are going to work with them again, I promise.

On other issues, I am currently working on replacing (for free) the piano in the Grand Hall. I need moral support on this. But with good will and patience, I am convinced this will happen.

As the building is worrying us all, one thing is certain, we will not cease to make music for the Lord, every Sunday.

I consider myself blessed to be among such a vibrant community of faithful people who participate and love their church so much. Let us go on forward.
As the hymn says: Where He leads me, I will follow...

Just a couple of years ago I was ready to give up this ministry, as we did not get enough money in the free will offering to cover the expenses, and we had very few people on the roster. The Lord had other ideas however, several new people volunteered, and the offering went up. I feel this is an important ministry, however humble, as it gives us a chance to talk and get to know one another better.

It would not be possible to continue without the faithful people who make the coffee and tea and clean-up week after week. You know who you are and I want to say thank you.

Counters' Report

Four (4) pairs of counters and two (2) spares form the complement of Sunday morning counters. Weekly reminders by Jean Codrington are appreciated and ensure that scheduled duties are not accidentally overlooked. All of the counters are conscientious in arranging trades with other teams when one or more members are unable to fill their duty on a scheduled day, so that only unanticipated events, such as illness, require the spares to be called in.

Additional counters would be appreciated as this would reduce the frequency of duties for all the teams.

Diocesan Pastoral Visitors

Psalm 143:10: Teach me to do your will, for you are my God.

Pastoral Visitors meetings are held in the Lounge on the fourth Monday of the month. The Archdeacon Michael Johnson is our Warden, and he is present for our meetings. I chair the meetings to the best of my ability.

We have a silent retreat in June. Also we try and have a picnic lunch in May or June. We meet and have a Christmas dinner in December, and a closing lunch at the end of June. We do not meet in July and August.

We have a group of people from St. Barnabas who visit shut-ins at their homes and in the hospital. The Rev. Pamela Yarrow also visits a lot. Our team try and keep in touch by phone or at regular breakfast gatherings.

We are very thrilled to have the Rev. Pamela Yarrow join us at the meetings.

God Bless,
Bev. Jarvis

Encouragers Group

The Encouragers Group was formed shortly after our new Incumbent, the Rev. Pamela Yarrow, was inducted at St. Barnabas, in December 2012.

This group meets monthly, (the first Tuesday of every month), and its objective is to provide support to existing ministries, support to our Incumbent, and look at other ministry opportunities to further the growth of the parish.

This group also represents the voice of all parishioners, and therefore everyone is welcome and invited to participate. This group has no limitations in terms of participants, so whether or not you plan to attend (or not attend) all monthly meetings is completely up to you. Just come when you can.

Our meetings are devoted to time in prayer, mainly in seeking God's direction for this parish, and our own individual needs. Everyone is invited to share their ideas and suggestions, and brainstorm different alternatives. This group does not make decisions on its own, but rather seeks the approval of the Board of Management for implementation of suggestions.

This is an important time in the history of our parish to seek God's direction and will for this community. I believe 2014 will be a turning point, and will require much prayers, time, and effort. We are all called to serve as HE has served.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Diotte

Greeters Ministry

The group is composed of 11 members who assiduously welcome everyone who enters the church for the 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services every Sunday of the year.

As much as possible (except for the 8 a.m. service), we try to have a team of two people at reception at the door, to give the necessary attention to the people entering.

We had a meeting to look at the guidelines proposed by the Diocesan Safe Church Protocol, including the security facts spelled out by the Bishop's Office. Our guidelines are now posted on the bulletin boards in the Narthex/entrance and at the back of the hall.

Our aim remains the welcoming of anyone who enters our doors, by giving them the bulletin and song books, and helping them to follow the service. We are also watchful for special needs, such as vision problems, and informing parents of the Sunday school availability, or providing bench art when necessary. If particular or doubtful situations occur (e.g. abusive behavior), the Greeters will work in cooperation with the Duty Warden in charge that day.

We are always looking for new members and have submitted a note in The Script.

Hand bell Choir

Greetings!

As I look back on 2013, I am reminded that God must be with us during our highs and lows, and brings us to where we have to be at the time, for ourselves and for others. This year, like most, has gone by in a flash.

It was a festival year: in May five members went to the Back to the Future Hand bell Festival in London, Ontario. It was a tribute to past festivals. Fun was had by all.

2 summer weddings! Our very own Wendy and Norris` wedding, and then Gareth`s daughter. We were blessed to have played at both weddings.

In September we continued to practice Monday nights and play in church monthly. We ended the year by playing at the Carol Service.

Members of the choir: Barbara Arnold, Nicky Horvat, Emily Horvat, Gareth Richardson, George Thomas, Norris Wood, Wendy PIngree and me.

I want to extend my thanks to everyone at St. Barnabas, for your warm reception and continued support of the Hand bell choir.

A personal thank-you to all the Hand bell ringers. Thank-you for your humor, your dedication, and your patience for when I say, let`s try that again but with attitude!

Respectfully yours,
Sari Tuominiemi

North Shore Lay Ecumenical Committee

This group was formed in the spring of 1994 to plan Ecumenical Mission. Since then, the spirit of the Mission has lived on and the Committee has planned various inter-church events in cooperation with North Shore clergy. At present eight churches have representatives on the committee.

Three activities are usually organized during the year:

- An Advent Carol Service,
- A service in January during the week of Prayer for Christian Unity.
- A Walk of Faith on Good Friday.

This year we had two extra services. St Barnabas hosted the World Day of Prayer, a well-attended service emphasizing the theme I was a stranger and you welcomed me. In October, about 150 people from local churches gathered at St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church for a Christian Unity Service.

In 2014 the World Day of Prayer Service will be held at Roxboro United Church on March 7th at 7:30 p.m. You are all invited.

SAFE CHURCH INITIATIVE

Description of Ministry

The Safe Church Initiative Committee has the mandate to describe our ministries, and to assess any risk inherent in the situations in which our volunteers serve. We hope the result of this assessment will be that those who are engaged in these ministries, and all the members of the church, can feel that everything is being done to create a safe environment for all.

The work of the Safe Church Initiative continued, in September, the work begun at last year's Vestry meeting. It was necessary to divide the work: the Corporation is providing job descriptions for the paid staff and ministries provided by those individuals, and a committee has been struck to evaluate the work and the risks entailed in the volunteer ministries.

A questionnaire and an explanation sheet were sent out by the Safe Church Committee to all the volunteer ministry heads of St. Barnabas in October, 2013, and the response was excellent. Using the information from these responses, the Safe Church Committee is developing a document for each ministry with two headings: Description of Ministry and Risk Analysis.

These documents may be found in a binder entitled Safe Church Initiative, which is kept in the church office. Ministry heads will be able to consult this binder and write in any changes they think necessary.

Seniors Residences

Psalm 116:2: Because He had inclined His ear to me, therefore I will call upon Him as long as I live.

The Holy Eucharist is celebrated by the Rev. Pamela Yarrow. On the first Tuesday of the month, at the Centre d'Accueil Pierrefonds, about 6 -- 9 people attend. The second Tuesday we meet at Vivendi in Ile-Bizard. There, one of the staff, not our volunteers, brings the people to a central sitting area for the Eucharist. About 12 seniors attend. At these two Eucharists, Kathleen Davies, Joan Turpin and Pat Clegg help. Music is played by either Joan or Kathleen.

Our third Eucharist is on the third Monday of the month at Centre d'Accueil Dollard des Ormeaux. The following people help at that residence: Madeleine Fortin-Simpson and Rodney Simpson, Joan Turpin, Kathleen Davies, and Lenora Brown. Approximately 5—10 residents attend the service.

Spring Dinner Report

On behalf of our Friday Night Prayer Group, the committee involved in the organizing and running of the Spring Dinner held in our church hall, in April, wishes to extend our heartfelt appreciation for all who supported this annual fund raising effort. This dinner is an attempt by our congregation to reach out to the poor and less fortunate persons and families both at home and abroad.

In previous years, our efforts were directed toward the sending of funds to the Primate's World Relief and Development Fund, and to our Diocese here in Montreal for mission. In recent years, however, all funds raised were remitted and distributed as follows (with comparatives for 2012):

	2013	2012
P.W.R.D.F.	$1,600	$1,931
Debt Retirement—Building Fund	$1,300	$1,900

Sunday School Report

A wife invited some people to dinner. At the table, she turned to her six-year-old daughter and said, "Would you like to say the blessing?"

"I wouldn't know what to say," the girl replied.

"Just say what you hear Mommy say," the wife answered.

The daughter bowed her head and said, "Lord, why on earth did I invite all these people to dinner?"

Children are so precious, they have a natural innocence that can make us smile but also help us to reflect upon the real meaning of God in our lives. As Sunday school teachers, we often marveled at the way children would incite us to explain things in very simple term that would get to the essence of what it means to be a Christian.

The Sunday school was reinstated in January of 2013. A total of eight children are currently registered in Sunday school. In the last year, we have been blessed with some children coming almost every Sunday. Let's continue to pray for the Sunday school ministry.

Synod Delegates' Report

The theme for the 154th Synod was: Called to serve.

One topic was: how to get young people involved when there are not many around. It was said that we will have to adapt to the youth. It was mentioned that St. Peter's Church in the Town of Mount Royal has a good youth group.

Building Capacity:

We need leadership development, regional ministry projects, youth ministry and hands-on support.

Kids Stuff:

A committee will be doing a survey to know what kids need. They will listen to what parents and caregivers have in mind for their kids. The survey will be for everyone, not only parish members.

Joint Assembly:

In July in Ottawa, there was a Joint Assembly between Anglicans and Lutherans. Anglicans convened in General Synod and Lutherans in National Convention. The theme was Get up, get out, get lost. A large group of Natives was at the convention. There was a video showing the highlights of the convention.

Motions:

- There was a motion to revise Canon 23 (Clergy Housing). The motion was presented, discussed, voted on and accepted.
- There was a motion opposing the Charter of Quebec values. The motion was presented, discussed, voted on and accepted.

Budget: The 2014 budget was accepted.

The Bishop's Charge:

The Bishop said we should think of ourselves as servants of Christ and stewards of God's ministries. It is required of stewards that they be found trustworthy. He also said that he will invite the Committee to revisit Canon 34 on vexatious behavior, and to include bullying as part of that canon. The Human Rights Committee will also be invited to develop a policy on bullying in the church. Anyone can read the entire Bishop's Charge by going to the Diocese of Montreal website.

Respectfully yours,

Worship Committee

The committee meets once a month to select hymns for all services. Members come to meetings with their prepared lists of hymns to discuss. We select these hymns with the help of the church calendar, Bible readings, and by referring to the McCausland's Order of Divine Service, which suggests hymns for all occasions.

Kathleen Davies
